Chairman's Message...

Vicki Firth

Dear Friends

March 31 was the end of the Friends fiscal year, and I would like to thank all of you, as well as our hardworking board, for your support of Friends activities and for making the year a financial success. We have come back from the SARS downturn in spectacular fashion. I'm not going to go into detail here about how that's been done, but if you come to the AGM you will hear all about it, complete with photos, and also hear about Hong Kong artists from Henry Au Yeung who used to teach at Chinese U. I hope you will join us on the 24th.

At the AGM we will be saying farewell to several board members: Our Treasurer Mary-Lou Donnan has done a terrific job with the accounts, as well as being a source of ideas and always lending a helping hand. Likewise Ellen Chan, on Day Tours. She has come up with imaginative and unusual destinations and provided the local knowledge that has been so helpful on an ongoing basis. Though she leaves the board, she will continue working as a docent and will help organise the Docent Programme next year. Dominica Yang is also officially leaving the board, but will be continuing her current job putting together beautiful designs for our cards and other products. Thank you Mary-Lou, Ellen and Dominica. It has been a pleasure serving with you and getting to know you over the past few years.

2006 will be the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Friends, and the board has been discussing various ways to mark our quarter century. One suggestion put forward by Prof Peter Lam, Director of the Art Museum, and endorsed by the board is that we publish a history of the Friends. The book could include photos of Friends donations, scholarship information, reminiscences, and more. We are looking for Friends members (writers/historians) to help us organise this project. Please contact any board member if you can help. The Friends membership is a goldmine of talent, but sometime the board needs help finding the right vein!

Other events to mark our 25th are also under discussion. We would like to involve as many of our members as possible in this process. Anyone interested in participating in our planning, please let us know.

Wu Tung, former Curator of Asian Art at the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, is coming to town again. His last two lectures in Hong Kong were a great success. Do join us on 3 May for an informal talk on Buddhist Art followed by dinner.

Vicki

Study Groups...

Winter/Spring Study Group: Buddhism in China

Travels of Hsuan Tsang and his Quest for the True Buddhist Sutras from Nalanda	Guardians of the Law: Lohans in Chinese Buddhism , Art and Culture
Sutras and Charms	Buddhism in China Under Communism
Buddhist Nuns: Women in Chinese Buddhism	Buddhism in Hong Kong

The study-group concludes this month on 17 May. As always we have learnt much and had an enjoyable time doing so. We are now looking forward sadly to the final few presentations.

Dates and Venue: This group runs on Tuesday mornings, 10am – 12noon at The Helena May. Visitors are welcome but please ring the co-coordinator to organize a date to attend.

Summer Study Group: Passports and Parasols: Women Travelers in Asia

For centuries it was frowned upon for women to travel without an escort, chaperone or husband. To journey was to put oneself at risk, not only physically but morally as well – a little freedom could be a dangerous thing. Despite these strictures, there was a group of women who broke with tradition, traveled extensively and wrote seriously about their travels.

We invite members of The Helena May & The Friends of the Art Museum, CUHK who are staying in Hong Kong for the summer, or even part thereof, to become arm-chair travelers and join what promises to be a fascinating study group where we will learn about these fantastic women and their travels. Each participant will choose a lady traveler to research and will present their findings to the group in the form of a thirty-minute talk. Subjects can be historical figures or contemporary women travelers. Some Suggested Travelers: Isabella Bird, Anna Leon Owens, Alexander David-Neal, Gertrude Bell, Jane Digby, Pearl Buck, Gladys Aylwood, Margaret Brooks, Freda Stark, Hester Stanhope, Marianne North, Anna Forbes, Sophia Raffles, Han Suyin, Harriet Low, Emily Kahn, and Alexandra Tolstoyto name just a few.

Tentative Days and Dates

An organization morning will be held at on Tuesday, 7 June with the study-group getting underway on Tuesday June 28th and running until mid-August.

To join the study-group or find out more information please contact Heather Chappell at hchappel@netvigator.com or phone 2592 9771 or 9663 2691

Day Tours

Buddha Bathing Ceremony at Po Lin Monastery 寶蓮禪寺

Date: Tuesday, 10 May
Meet: 9:00am, Queen's Pier, for bus to Po Lin Monastery arriving 10:45am
Departure: 2:15 pm, arrive Central around 4:00pm
Cost: $200* members $ 220* non-members Limited to 15 Persons

In 1906 three Zen Monks arrived on Lantau island to establish the monastery first known as 'The Big Hut' (after the structure built to house their followers). In 1924, the Venerable Ji Xiu became the monastery's first Abbot, formally naming the sacred building (at that time still made of bamboo and wood) Po Lin Monastery. Over time, the monastery complex has grown in size and grandeur and now includes the Tian Tan Big Buddha, completed in 1993. The Buddha statue reflects the blended and combined artistry of the Sui and Tang dynasties. This marriage of religious culture and sculpture has quickly become a Hong Kong landmark. On Tuesday we will tour the temple for an hour, then gather to watch the Buddha Bathing ceremony at Noon, following which we will have lunch at the Monastery. During the lunch hour, we will be entertained by live performances of Chinese Kung Fu, and Face-Changing. At some point, a bag will quietly be passed around among participants to collect donations to the Monastery. (*The $200/220 cost covers all tour expenses except the donation. Suggested amount of donation is $100 per person.) This is a joint activity with the HKU Museum Society.

To Book: Please send tear sheet and cheque payable to Friends of the Art Museum, CUHK Ltd. to Ellen Chan at Block J, Flat 2, 6th Floor, Beverly Hill, Broadwood Road, Happy Valley, Hong Kong.

Forthcoming Day Tour: Huizhou Vernacular Architecture

Date: Thursday, 16 June
Place: The HK Heritage Museum

A large number of well-preserved Ming & Qing dynasty villages can still be found in southern Anhui province. Hugging the riverbanks and backed by mountains, they still today evoke this line from a Qing poem: "Deep in the verdant and misty mountains, emerged the whitewashed houses..."

The exhibition is a joint presentation by the HK Leisure & Cultural services and the Anhui Provincial Museum. It features more than 120 pieces of exquisite wood, brick and stone carvings, including items from the collection of Friends' member Kai Yin Lo such as carved door panels (pictured below). There is also a reconstruction of the main hall and study of a typical Huizhou dwelling.

A bus to the museum will be provided and a Chinese lunch has been arranged. Further details and booking information will appear in the June newsletter.

Place: The Peak (address provided at time of sign-up)
Time: 10:00am-12:00noon
Cost: $80 Members, $100 Guests

Helen McBride Anderson is a lecturer, teacher, appraiser and consultant on Asian art. A native of Virginia, Mrs. Anderson has lived in Asia for much of the last fifty years. She has pursued her studies of Asian art over many years and has lectured in museums in the U.S. and in Asia. While living Bangkok, she served as chairman of docents in the Thai culture wing of the National Museum. She also served as director of numerous study groups on Asian ceramics. One of the many highlights of her life was a summer spent as a visiting scholar at the National Palace Museum in Taipei. It was here, many years earlier, that she saw her favorite Ming dynasty blue and white porcelain. This was to become one of her grand passions.

After her husband retired from Embassy life, the Andersons returned to their beach home in California, where Helen became a consultant to the Michael Srednick Collection of Beverly Hills, one of the first major collections of Chinese ceramics brought to the USA after the reopening of China to the West. It was a wonderland of ceramics, unseen by the general public for over fifty years. As a Chairman of the Asian Arts Committee of the San Diego Museum of Art, she was 'forced' to lead a tour for members to the National Museum in Bangkok. A new career was born. For many years Helen has led the San Diego Museum of Art's tours. Today, she lives with her daughter in Hong Kong and last month led a study tour to India for the Oriental Ceramics Society.

Date: March – 25 September 2005

Venue: East-wing Galleries, Art Museum CUHK

This exhibition features 178 pieces of monochrome ware, dating from the Yuan to the Qing dynasties (14th – 19th centuries) and produced in Jingdezhen, Jiangxi province, the ceramic capital of China. For monochrome wares, the evolution in firing technique and innovation of unprecedented glaze colours from the 14th century onwards peaked in the late Kangxi to Qianlong reigns (18th century) of the Qing dynasty. On display are many magnificent examples from the imperial factory commissioned by the Imperial Household Department, most of which carry reign marks of the emperors. The exhibits also provide a comprehensive overview of the Chinese tradition in ceramic connoisseurship during the last five centuries. All the exhibits are selected from the Zhuyuetang collection. The great number of fine examples comprising all varieties of monochromatic glaze colours makes this collection one of the most important in the world for reference purposes.

Considered the cradle of Chinese civilization, in Henan Province, home to the Shang dynasty (1700 - 1100BC) and earlier settlements, we visit the 16th century BC capital Zhengzhou, now a typical Chinese provincial city on the fertile, often flood-ravaged, plains of the unruly Yellow River. Loyang, founded in 1200 BC, was capital of 10 dynasties until the Northern Song moved its capital to Kaifeng in the 10th century AD.

Join us as we take in the Shaolin Monastery, thought to have been founded in the 5th century and one of China's most famous martial arts schools. The 5th century Longmen grottoes, one of four UNESCO World heritage sites in China, reflect the peak of Buddhist art, and are a wonderful example of the integration of Buddhism, Confucianism and Taoism which occurred at that time.

Tsumago Village on the Nakasendo Highway

WALK JAPAN - Walk Along the Nakasendo Highway through the Mountains

28 October – 6 November 2005
10 days / 9 nights

This tour is for people who enjoy country walking. As we explore one of the old highways of Japan, the Nakasendo, we follow in the footsteps of the Samurai, passing through post towns well-preserved in their seventeenth century form, sleeping in little inns on tatami matting well away from the bustle of modern city life. This is the charm of the excursion: these traditional inns are not only hard to find, but virtually impossible for the average non-Japanese person to secure. The scenery is beautiful and we hope to catch the autumn colors in all their glory.

Walk Japan follows the most enjoyable, scenic and best preserved parts of the highway. Seventeenth century travellers insisted on a reasonably easy route for their journey and so do we. The daily walking distance is 10 -20 km, but transport is always close at hand for those who require it. As we walk, our baggage goes by taxi but nevertheless will need to be kept small and manageable. At inns and stations, up stairs and across railroad tracks we must carry our own. There are no escalators or porters in the countryside! Along the highway we climb several passes, but they have gentle inclines and can be taken at a comfortable pace. Breakfast and dinner are in the Japanese style. Lunch is at our own expense, usually a short stop on the trail. Our guide speaks Japanese fluently and is with us at all times to answer questions along the way. This trip is restricted to 16, as the inns are small.

...Asian Tours

Friday, 28 Oct (HK/Kyoto)

Fly HK/ Osaka CX 506 (10:05a.m. – 2:45p.m.)
Take the Haruka express train to Kyoto, arriving about 5p.m. After checking into our hotel, we will go out for dinner.

Saturday, 29 Oct (Hikone – Sekigahara)

We will board a bus and visit the I.M. Pei-designed Miho Museum set into the mountains east of Lake Biwa. Proceed to Hikone castle town, including the castle's museum & gardens. Hikone was the home of the Li family, prominent supporters of the Tokugawa shoguns. The city still reflects the original design & purposes of a feudal castle: power, authority & control mixed with a highly developed urban culture. At the end of the day, we will continue to our inn at Sekigahara, site of the battle (1600) at which the Tokugawa family established its supremacy.

Sunday, 30 Oct (Hosokute)

Proceed by train to the village of Mitake, an old post town on the Nakasendo highway. From Mitake, we will walk about 12 kilometers to the post town, Hosokute, through gently rolling foothills that rise out of the vast plain around the city of Nagoya.

Monday, 31 Oct (Ena)

Today is a fairly long walk (about 22 km) along a ridge of foothills, passing through the post town of Okute with its signature 1200 year old sugi (cryptomeria) tree, and over the Biwa Pass. At the end of the day, we descend into the valley around Ena city where we spend the night in a western-style hotel. There is a laundromat here.

Tuesday, 1 Nov (Ena - Nakatsugawa - Shinchaya)

Ena includes the Hiroshige Museum dedicated to the famous set of block prints eulogizing the Nakasendo highway, executed, of course, by Hiroshige & another artist. The museum displays a comprehensive variety of block prints, and demonstrates with videos, displays and hands-on demonstrations the way that the prints are made. Then on by train to Nakatsugawa for lunch and a visit, time permitting, to the historical museum before walking about 7 km to the small village of Shinchaya.

Wednesday, 2 Nov (Shinchaya – Magome - Otsumago)

Magome is just 1 km away from the Shinchaya inn and is a major tourist destination because it was the home town of Shimazaki Toson, Japan's first modern novelist. Shimazaki wrote Before the Dawn, a famous historical novel set in Magome. After lunch in Magome, we walk over a pass to Otsumago, about 7 km distant. It is a short walk from here to the better known Tsumago, with its authentic appearance of a Tokugawa-era post town. In the evening, we go to the hot spa at the top of the surrounding mountains.

Thursday, 3 Nov (Otsumago – Nagiso – Kiso-Fukushima)

This is our longest day of walking, about 23 km, through rising foothills arrayed beneath the 3000-metre southern Japanese alps. The countryside is distinctly alpine with stunning scenery. At the end of the day, we board a train at Nojiri bound for Kiso-Fukushima, a regional centre for 300 years. The inn here is formal with employees serving a delicious meal. The inn's large baths are open 24 hrs a day.

...Asian Tours

Friday, 4 Nov (Kiso-Fukushima – Yabuhara – Narai)

After visiting the reconstructed barrier station, we board a train for Yabuhara & the walk over Torii Pass to the post town of Narai. Although the hike is only 3 or 4 hours, it is steadily uphill to the pass at 1100 m, then down to Narai which is an excellently preserved post town. The inn is commodious with large, hot baths and great food!

Saturday, 5 Nov (Narai - Kyoto)

Ankor Wat

Cambodia & Ho Chi Minh City —

Up river from the Mekong Delta

To Phnom Penh

19-27 November 2005

9 Days/8 Nights

Experience the bustle of Ho Chi Minh city (Saigon) before we make our way to the Mekong Delta, rice basket of the nation, buzzing with a slow but constant energy, awash with vibrant colour. We take to the water in a chartered boat for the trip up the Mekong to Phnom Penh & our brush with the darker side of Cambodian history. Then on to Siem Reap and the wonder of Angkor Wat and the surrounding temples, the highlight of the Khmer civilization and architecture.

In the 8th C, the mighty kingdom of Angkor embraced both the Hindu & Mahayana Buddhist influences from India. They built some of the most monumental stone temple structures on earth. While the greatest of these is Angkor Wat, hundreds of other temple sites provide an equally lasting testament to the artistic prowess and religious fervour of this fascinating civilization.

South India Tour Group at Meenakshi Temple

South India Tour Report

by Mary Rhine

Southern India's rich store of traditions are embodied in the myriad of temples from many schools and dynasties. Temple building is in itself an art, and has progressed from temporary wood structures to those built of more enduring stone which have withstood the ravages of time and tide. In February, 17 Friends toured the temples of Tamil Nadu, and learned more about this area's rich cultural mix of different people through the ages. Each person — including St. Thomas, Vasco Da Gama, and French and British colonial settlers left a legacy which combined to create the cultural mix which defines Kerala and Tamil Nadu. Christian churches, synagogues and the amazing Hindu temples attest to this legacy at every turn.

We started at Chennai (Madras) with a visit to the Museum to see the outstanding collection of bronzes. From there we journeyed to the 7th century Shore Temple and the Arjuna's Penance which contains the world's largest bas-relief of themes from Hindu mythology. Then on to the Brihadeeshwara Temple, the crowning glory of the 11th century Chola Dynasty, which amazed us with the richness of its architecture, sculpture and art. In Trichy we visited the Rock Fort with a Ganesha Temple on the top. The rock also contains cave temples dating to the 7th century.

For a change of pace we stopped in Pondicherry, and wandered the streets of the old French colonial town. The city, with its rich maritime history, was first visited by the Portuguese in 1521, to be followed in the 17th century by the Dutch and the Danes. They, in turn were succeeded by the French and the British and, eventually, the French again. Like a step back in time, the quiet streets are lined with elegant French colonial buildings.

The highlight of our temple tour was the vast and imposing Meenakshi Temple with a history dating back 2000 years. Its 12 temple towers are almost 50 meters high and covered with brightly colored statues. The temple is built in the Dravidian style – one part is for Lord Shiva and the other for his spouse Meenakshi. In the evening we witnessed the closing ceremony at the temple during which an image of Shiva is carried in procession to Meenakshi's bedroom.

With names of temples swimming in our heads, we headed to Kerala. We drove through tea plantations, stopped at a spice farm and, at Kottayam, visited two Syrian Christian churches which are over 700 years old. A network of rivers, canals and estuaries intertwines throughout Kerala, and during our cruise along the backwaters we saw tiny settlements of thatched houses nestling on minute plots of land.

On our final day in Cochin we visited St. Francis Xavier's church, built in 1510, where Vasco Da Gama was buried for 14 years. The highlight of Cochin was a sunset cruise. The sun setting behind the Chinese fishing nets was a sight never to be forgotten.

Many thanks to Diana for a magnificent journey with old and new Friends through a rich and ancient land.
